

Akelius Residential Property AB Proposed Hybrid Notes Rated 'BB+' And Assessed As Having Intermediate Equity Content

January 31, 2020

- Akelius intends to issue unsecured subordinated hybrid notes of benchmark size.
- We are assigning our 'BB+' issue rating to the proposed notes.
- The issue rating on the proposed notes is two notches below the 'BBB' long-term issuer credit rating on Akelius, reflecting our view of the notes' subordination and interest deferability.

STOCKHOLM (S&P Global Ratings) Jan. 31, 2020--S&P Global Ratings today assigned its 'BB+' issue rating to the proposed unsecured subordinated hybrid notes to be issued by Akelius Residential Property AB (BBB/Stable/A-2).

The completion and size of the transaction will be subject to market conditions, but we anticipate it will be about €500 million. Akelius plans to use the proceeds to to repay senior debt and for potential future acquisitions.

The proposed hybrid notes have a non-call period from issuance of at least 5 years. The notes are callable thereafter, and are optionally deferrable and subordinated.

We consider that the proposed hybrid notes will meet our criteria to receive intermediate equity content until the first reset date. In line with our hybrid criteria, in our calculation of Akelius's credit ratios we will treat 50% of the principal outstanding under the hybrids as debt rather than equity, and will treat 50% of the related payments on these notes as equivalent to interest expense.

We estimate that, post the transaction, the company's hybrid capitalization rate will be about 10%, thus below our threshold of 15%.

We arrive at our 'BB+' issue rating on the proposed notes by deducting two notches from our 'BBB' issuer credit rating on Akelius. Under our methodology:

- We deduct one notch for the subordination of the proposed notes, because the issuer credit rating on Akelius is investment grade (that is, 'BBB-' or above); and
- We deduct an additional notch for payment flexibility to reflect that the deferral of interest is optional.

The notching reflects our view that there is a relatively low likelihood that the issuer will defer interest. Should our view change, we may increase the number of notches we deduct to derive the issue rating.
